the lowest for women was in manchester, where women could expect to live to an average of 79.3 years seven years less than those in east dorset.